ABE & IRENE POLLIN

In their 46th season of ownership of the franchise, Irene and Abe Pollin hold the distinction of being the longest-tenured owners in the National Basketball Association. Since becoming owners in 1964, the Pollins have watched the NBA become the standard by which all other professional sports leagues are measured, as it exploded in growth from a small, regional league to a worldwide presence.

Irene and Abe Pollin have been at the center of some of the NBA's most historic events during their distinguished time at the helm of the Washington Bullets/ Wizards. In 1978, they reached the pinnacle of the NBA when their Bullets, behind the play of Wes Unseld, Elvin Hayes and Bob Dandridge, defeated Seattle and brought a World Championship to Washington. In the summer of 1979, Pollin took his Bullets to Asia to lead the NBA's first ever venture into China, forging the way for the NBA to become a global entity, and watched as members of his organization made a return trip to China in September of 2009 to commemorate the 30-year anniversary of the historic first trip.

As the majority owners of Washington Sports & Entertainment Limited Partnership, the Pollins oversee the operations of the Washington Wizards, Washington/Baltimore Ticketmaster and in-house promoter Musicentre Productions, as well as the management of Verizon Center and The George Mason University Patriot Center.

Thirty-six years ago, the Pollins opened the Capital Centre in Landover, Maryland, the new home for their Baltimore Bullets, and applied for a National Hockey League expansion franchise. The Capital Centre opened on December 2, 1973, and it was what Verizon Center is today -- a state-of-the-art sports and entertainment facility that became the standard for new arenas throughout the world.

The Capital Centre, aptly named by Irene Pollin, was built in a record 15 months and boasted a plethora of unique features including electronic ticketing, one-of-a-kind luxury suite accommodations and the never-before-seen telescreen. It was the premier arena in its time, as it hosted a wide range of events from sports to concerts, and even presidential galas.

But as time and the sports and entertainment industry changed, the Pollins realized that their teams were no longer playing in the "best" facility in their respective leagues. In 1964, when the Pollins and two partners purchased the Baltimore Bullets, they had dreams that someday the team would play in a brand-new facility in the nation's capital. Once again, they seized the opportunity to make their dreams a reality.

After the long years of planning and building Verizon Center, the Pollins watched as their dreams came true on December 2, 1997, when a sellout crowd filled Verizon Center to watch the Wizards host the arena's first event versus the Seattle Supersonics. Since that time, the downtown Chinatown neighborhood has sprung to life with close to 27 million people having spun the turnstiles at Verizon Center to be a part of nearly 2,500 concerts, family shows and world-class sporting events. The 2007-08 NBA season marked the 10th Anniversary of the opening of Verizon Center in downtown Washington; a milestone celebrated with a series of special community events and building accolades. Nominated for Arena of the Year for the first time by leading trade publication, Pollstar, Verizon Center also saw the installation of the first true indoor, high-definition, light emitting diode (LED) display scoreboard for an arena in the country, once again putting the building on the cutting edge of technology and ahead of the curve.

"I had two goals when I decided to build this building," said Abe Pollin. "The first was that if I was building in downtown Washington, the nation's capital, it had to be the best building of its kind in the country. The second was to be the catalyst that turned the city around."

In 1998, as the Wizards completed their first season at Verizon Center, the Pollins' WNBA franchise, the Washington Mystics, made history of their own. The Mystics made their Verizon Center debut on June 19, 1998 in front of 20,674 fans — the largest crowd ever to attend a women's professional basketball game in the United States. And while the Mystics' beginnings under the Pollins' guidance were historic in their own right, their purchase by Sheila Johnson and Lincoln Holdings was of similar significance. In May of 2005, the Pollins facilitated the sale of their Mystics to Sheila Johnson as the Mystics President and Managing Partner, and brought Johnson to Lincoln Holdings, a minority partner in Washington Sports & Entertainment. With Lincoln Holdings' stake in the NBA's Wizards and the NHL's Capitals, Johnson became the first African-American woman to have ownership interest in three professional sports franchises.

While the sports industry is full of astute business professionals, what distinguishes Irene and Abe Pollin from their peers is their commitment to social responsibility. They share a passionate need to give back to the community and have made helping people a way of life. Their philanthropic and humanitarian endeavors know no bias or boundaries, which is evident by the numerous public service and community organizations to which they selflessly devote enormous time and energy.

Abe Pollin serves as the Chairman of the Advisory Council, is Honorable Chairman of the Salvation Army's Leadership Committee for Centers of Hope and Co-Chair of the Community Capital Campaign for N Street Village in the District. He is also the co-sponsor of the "I Have a Dream Foundation" and he personally guaranteed a college education for 55 students. Recent philanthropic endeavors of the Pollins have included the re-launch of the Abe's Table program to feed the underserved in the DC community and financial sponsorship of Gilbert Arenas' Gilbert Scores for Schools program, through which the Pollins donated $100 for every point that Arenas scored in select Wizards games during the 2006-07 and 2007-08 seasons to a different Washington area school each game (a donation that exceeded $300,000 last season alone). In August of 2008 the Pollins donated $1,000,000 to the Society for Progressive Supranuclear Palsy - CUREPSP - to establish a fund to support research in corticobasal degeneration (CBD) and to find the cause and cure for the rare neurological disease, a disease which Mr. Pollin was diagnosed with several years ago.

"I grew up in a house where both of my parents were very much involved in helping others," said Pollin. "My philosophy is that those of us who are on the giving end rather than the receiving end are very lucky."

Not surprisingly, recognition of the Pollins' accomplishments are just as impressive as the deeds they acknowledge. The recent years have been landmark ones for Pollin, as he has received numerous awards and accolades recognizing his accomplishments in professional sports and contributions to community service.

Pollin was awarded the Duke Ziebert Capital Achievement Award for his efforts in revitalizing downtown Washington, DC He has also been the recipient of the Distinguished Civilian Service Award, presented by the US Army, the 1996 Robert F. Kennedy-Martin Luther King, Jr. Award, presented by Coalition to Stop Gun Violence, the 1996 United Cerebral Palsy Achievement Award and the 1997 Jewish Leadership Award. In 2006, Pollin was honored for his contributions to the world of sports and his community when the United States Sports Academy tabbed him for their Distinguished Service Award. On December 3, 2007, Mayor Adrian M. Fenty proclaimed "Abe Pollin Day" in the District of Columbia in honor of Abe Pollin's 84th birthday and all of his contributions to the city. In addition to proclaiming Abe Pollin Day, the Mayor unveiled F Street between 6th and 7th Streets NW as "Abe Pollin Way."

As if the years of experience with the Bullets/Wizards, Capital Centre and Verizon Center were not challenging enough, Irene Pollin is a noted health care professional with three decades of experience in the field. In 1976, she created the first Medical Crisis Counseling Center developed to treat patients and families coping with chronic illness. Since then, she has developed Medical Crisis Counseling Centers at Washington Hospital Center as well as additional facilities in surrounding communities.

Irene Pollin has forged a dynamic reputation as a psychiatric social worker and lecturer in the department of psychiatry at Harvard University. As president and founder of the Linda and Kenneth Pollin Foundation, she serves on a number of national advisory boards and commissions in fields of both mental and women's health, and is the founder and chairperson of the Sister to Sister — Everyone Has a Heart Foundation, an organization whose aim is to increase women's awareness of heart disease and provide free cardiac screenings. Pollin organized Sister to Sister's BIKE FOR THE HEART in Washington DC in October, 2009 to aid in the effort to increase awareness of heart disease, with DC Mayor Adrian M. Fenty and Washington Wizards Forward Caron Butler serving as Co-Chairs of the event.

In addition to lecturing in the academic community, Mrs. Pollin has been a guest on national and local broadcast shows including the Today show, Nightline with Ted Koppel, Good Day New York, National Public Radio and USA Today Sports Radio. She also has published numerous articles and is the author of two books, Medical Crisis Counseling — Short-Term Therapy for Long-Term Illness and Taking Charge — Overcoming the Challenges of Long-Term Illness.

She has served as a board member of numerous organizations such as the American Cancer Society, Smithsonian Institution, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, National Kidney Foundation, the Multiple Sclerosis Society, the Society for Women's Health Research, National Cancer Institute, National Rehabilitation Hospital, the National Institute of Mental Health, the U.S. Committee for the Washington, DC United Nations Fund for Women, the National Institutes for Health Foundation and the Office of Women's Health at NIH. Outside of the health field, Irene Pollin has served on the board for the National Symphony Orchestra and the Washington

Opera. In addition, she has given back to her alma mater by serving on the Board of American University, the American University Executive Committee and the Development Committee at American University, and being the guiding force behind the development of the new American University Library. In the spring of 2007, Irene Pollin received an honorary doctorate degree from Howard University.

Irene and Abe Pollin together established the Pollin Prize for Pediatric Research, administered annually by New York Presbyterian Hospital. The first Pollin Prize was awarded on November 15, 2002, to four international scientists for their work in Oral Dehydration Therapy, hailed as the most important medical discovery of the 20th century.

Abe Pollin moved with his family to the Washington area from Philadelphia when he was eight. He graduated from The George Washington University in 1945 and went to work for his family's construction company for 12 years. Irene Pollin, a native of St. Louis, received a Bachelor's Degree from American University, and then earned a Master's Degree in Social Work from Catholic University. In 1957, the Pollins launched their own construction company and, as a local contractor, built several large apartment houses and office buildings, one of which featured the first-ever rooftop pool in Washington.

The Pollins enjoy spending time with their children and grandchildren. Robert, the elder of the Pollins' two sons, lives in Amherst, MA, with his wife Sigrid, where they are both professors at the University of Massachusetts. Robert, an economics professor, and Sigrid, an architect, have two daughters, Emma and Hannah. The Pollins' younger son, James, is the President of The Pollin Group/MedEdatSea, a travel business specializing in cruises. Irene and Abe Pollin reside in Bethesda, Maryland.

On December 3, 2007, Mayor Adrian M. Fenty proclaimed "Abe Pollin Day" in the District of Columbia in honor of Abe Pollin's 84th birthday and all of his contributions to the city. In addition to proclaiming Abe Pollin Day, the Mayor unveiled F Street between 6th and 7th Streets NW as "Abe Pollin Way." ERNIE GRUNFELD
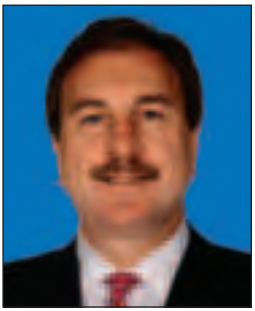
President



Ernie Grunfeld is entering his seventh season as president of the Washington Wizards. With 32 years of NBA experience as a player, broadcaster, coach and executive, Grunfeld's vision and leadership have been paramount to the Wizards' success.

Now in his 20th season as a top personnel executive in the NBA, Grunfeld's long list of accomplishments includes two trips to the NBA Finals, four Eastern Conference Finals appearances, 16 playoff berths with three different teams (including 11 straight from 1991-2001 while with the New York Knicks and Milwaukee Bucks) and 17 seasons of at least .500 basketball.

Grunfeld joined the Wizards organization on June 30, 2003. In just his second year in Washington (2004-05), the Wizards won a playoff series for the first time in over two decades with a roster that was largely assembled under his guidance. Four years later, when the team made its fourth consecutive playoff appearance, Grunfeld's Wizards reached an organizational goal of becoming perennial playoff contenders, and now aim to take the next step towards becoming a perennial power in the Eastern Conference and in the NBA.

"Everything he has done has been with the focus of making us a playoff contender for years to come," said Wizards Chairman Abe Pollin. "Some moves have shown immediate returns and others are made with an eye towards the future. That's the mark of a good manager."

Grunfeld triggered the Wizards' ascent in the Eastern Conference with the acquisition of a trio of talented performers in Gilbert Arenas, Antawn Jamison and Caron Butler, all of whom blossomed into multi-time All-Stars in Washington. Arenas was signed as a restricted free agent out of Golden State in 2003, and Jamison and Butler were acquired, respectively, via trades with the Dallas Mavericks in 2004 and the Los Angeles Lakers in 2005. Grunfeld recently augmented Washington's talent and depth with the acquisition of versatile veterans Mike Miller and Randy Foye, a move that is widely regarded as a key reason why Washington is poised to re-join the upper echelon of the Eastern Conference in 2009-10.

With Brendan Haywood and DeShawn Stevenson returning from injury, Grunfeld has built a versatile veteran rotation that melds well with his draftees; Andray Blatche (49th overall in 2005), Nick Young (16th in 2007), Dominic McGuire (47th in 2007) and JaVale McGee (16th in 2008).

In the process of building a contender in the Eastern Conference, Grunfeld's attention to detail resulted in the renovating and upgrading of the team's facilities at Verizon Center. The major overhaul included the interior and exterior of the team's locker room and the basketball operations and coaching offices.

Prior to joining the Wizards, Grunfeld spent the previous four seasons as general manager of the Milwaukee Bucks, where the team's 14 playoff wins during his tenure exceeded its cumulative total in the 12 seasons prior to his arrival. During his tenure, the Bucks posted a record of 177-151 (.540) and qualified for the playoffs three times. Included in the Bucks' run of playoff success was a trip to the 2001 Eastern Conference Finals, where they pushed Philadelphia to a deciding Game Seven.

Grunfeld solidified his reputation as a top talent evaluator with a series of second round picks that helped build the Bucks' roster. Grunfeld's eye for finding talent in the second round began when he selected Michael Redd with the 43rd overall pick in 2000, as Redd blossomed into an All-Star performer. Grunfeld has also tabbed Jason Hart (2000), Ronald Murray (2002) and, more recently, Andray Blatche (2005) and Dominic McGuire (2007) in the second round of the NBA Draft to stake his claim as a premier draft day executive.

During Grunfeld's reign as the Knicks' top personnel executive, New York advanced to the Conference Semifinals of the NBA Playoffs for nine consecutive seasons (1991-99). His tenure included five 50-plus win seasons, three Atlantic Division Championships and two trips to the NBA Finals. In eight full seasons of decision-making for New York, Grunfeld's Knicks teams compiled a record of 397-227 (.636) in the regular season and a 61-44 mark in the playoffs.

Grunfeld was named General Manager of the New York Knicks on April 23, 1991, and was later promoted to President and General Manager on February 23, 1996. His tenure in New York was punctuated by Eastern Conference Championships in 1994 and '99, the latter of which marked the first time in NBA history that an eighth seed advanced to the Finals. Remarkably, after Patrick Ewing was felled by injury, the '99 Finals squad featured an entirely different starting five than the previous Eastern Conference Champion Knickerbockers just five years earlier.

Under Grunfeld, the mid-'90's Knicks completely rebuilt and reloaded to an elite level without missing a beat. Highlighted by trades for Latrell Sprewell and Marcus Camby, as well as the signing of free agent Kurt Thomas, Grunfeld's moves helped catapult the Knicks to the Finals in '99. Three years earlier, Grunfeld acquired both Larry Johnson and Allan Houston on the same day in '96. Under Grunfeld's guidance, the Knicks played in front of a sold-out Madison Square Garden from 1993-99.

Originally drafted by Milwaukee with the 11th overall selection in 1977, Grunfeld played in the NBA for nine seasons. After two seasons in Milwaukee, he played for the Kansas City Kings from 1979-82 before signing with the Knicks as a free agent in 1982. Grunfeld retired following the 1985-86 season with a career average of 7.4 points per game in 693 career games played.

Following his playing career, Grunfeld served as the Knicks radio analyst for the MSG Network from 1986-89. Prior to the 1989-90 season, he served as an assistant coach for the Knicks under Stu Jackson before his promotion to the front office.

Born in Romania, Grunfeld came to New York City in 1964 with his father, Alex and mother, Livia. He enjoyed a stellar collegiate career at the University of Tennessee, where he left as the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,249 points. He teamed with Bernard King at Tennessee to form the "Ernie and Bernie Show" and later played with King in New York. Grunfeld was a member of the 1976 Olympic Team that won gold in Montreal.

Upon his arrival in Washington DC, Grunfeld was quick to establish himself as an active member of the community in the nation's capital. His participation in the organization's community outreach programs, including Thanksgiving luncheons, holiday gift deliveries, and charitable bowling tournaments helped set an example of excellence for the Wizards and the community.

In May of 2005, Grunfeld was named by USA Basketball to a panel of nine basketball executives that will advise the United States' men's senior national program on matters including coaches and players selection.

Grunfeld and his wife, Nancy, have two children, Rebecca Grunfeld Hamilton, a 2007 graduate of Georgetown Law School who is now a second-year associate at the law firm of Kaye Scholer in Washington, DC, and Danny, a former First-Team Academic All-American from Stanford University, who now plays professional basketball in Spain.

TOMMY SHEPPARD
Vice President of Basketball Administration

In his seventh season with the Wizards organization, Tommy Sheppard is in his 16th year of service to the NBA. As Washington's Vice President of Basketball Administration, Sheppard assists with the day-to-day operations of a basketball department that brought three All-Stars in Gilbert Arenas, Antawn Jamison, and Caron Butler to Washington, and added veteran experience to the Wizards' core with Mike Miller, Randy Foye, Fabricio Oberto and DeShawn Stevenson. After Washington's streak of four consecutive appearances in the NBA Playoffs was snapped last season, Sheppard played a pivotal role in bringing head coach Flip Saunders to the nation's capital, giving the Wizards a perfect match between their veteran players and experienced coaching staff. Previously, in the summer of 2008, Sheppard played an integral role in the re-signing of both Arenas and Jamison.

With Denver, he oversaw all internal and external communications functions and served as the club's primary spokesperson. He also scouted internationally and evaluated high school, collegiate and minor league talent.

An active figure within the United States Olympic Movement for over a decade, Sheppard worked as a press attaché for the three Summer Olympic Games (1996, 2000, 2004), as well as three Olympic Festivals and the 2003 Pan American Games. He assisted with the formation of the Northern European Basketball League (which realigned as part of FIBA Europe) and continues to serve as a consultant for Lithuanian legend and former NBA star Sarunas Marciulionis in various basketball projects.

Sheppard graduated from New Mexico State University in 1991, where he was a three-year member of the Aggie football team. After getting his start in media relations as a student assistant at New Mexico State, Sheppard headed the sports information office at UNLV before taking ranks in the National Basketball Association in 1994. Sheppard and his wife, Rosie, are the parents of five daughters: Bailey, Rebekah, Abby, Emma and Tessa, and one son, Tommy Jr.

FLIP SAUNDERS
Head Coach

Flip Saunders was named the 22nd head coach in franchise history on April 22, 2009. In two decades at the professional level, including 13 seasons in the NBA, Saunders has cemented his reputation as one of the finest coaches in the game of basketball.

With a record of 587-396 entering the 2009-10 season, his .597 winning percentage (seventh among active coaches) is topped only by Phil Jackson (.746), Pat Riley (.722), Don Nelson (.611) and Jerry Sloan (.600) among all-time NBA coaches in their first 13 seasons, and ranks seventh-best all-time among coaches with at least 900 games at the helm. Saunders has seven 50-win seasons to his credit as an NBA head coach, and with four Conference Finals runs in 11 postseason appearances, he defines what it means to be playoff-tested.

Saunders joined the Wizards after leading the Detroit Pistons to a 176-70 (.715) record from 2005-08, the highest winning percentage of any coach in their franchise history. In 2007-08, the third of Saunders' three seasons with the Pistons, he guided Detroit to their third consecutive Central Division crown with a 59-23 regular season record (the second-best record in the Eastern Conference). Saunders recorded his 500th win as an NBA head coach during the 2006-07 campaign, becoming just the 26th coach in NBA history at the time to reach that mark. Saunders' first season in Detroit in 2005-06 included a record of 24-3 after 27 games, making him just the second coach in NBA history to start a season 24-3 in his first year as head coach of a new team (Bill Sharman led the Lakers to a 39-3 start in 1971-72). He became the only coach in NBA history to win Eastern Conference Coach of the Month honors for three consecutive months (November '05, December '05, January '06), and he helmed the Eastern Conference All-Star team in Houston in 2006 (as one of only six coaches in NBA history to be named head coach of the All-Star team in both the Eastern and Western Conferences). During that season, Detroit tied a franchise record for most home victories (37), and set a franchise record for road wins (27). In three seasons in Detroit, Saunders' Pistons finished with the best record in the Eastern Conference twice (2005-06, 2006-07), and ranked in the top three of the NBA in points per game allowed each season (including a first place finish in 2007-08), showing that Saunders is equally adept at defensive scheming as he is on the offensive end.

Prior to joining Detroit, Saunders spent nine-plus years with the Minnesota Timberwolves (1995-2005), where he guided the club to eight consecutive playoff appearances and a Western Conference-best and franchise-best 58-24 record in 2003-04 -- a season that culminated in a berth in the Western Conference Finals. During his tenure in Minnesota, he won NBA Western Conference Coach of the Month honors four times (April '04, February '03, January '01, January '00) and coached the Western Conference during the 2004 NBA All-Star Game in Los Angeles. Saunders' time with Timberwolves represented the best years in the franchise's history, and placed him as the organization's all-time winningest coach. He posted a winning record in six of his nine full seasons as head coach, compiling an overall record of 411-326 (.558).

Saunders' impressive coaching resume also includes seven consecutive seasons of 30 or more victories in the CBA, two CBA Championships ('90, '92), a pair of CBA Coach of the Year honors ('90, '92) and 23 CBA-to-NBA player promotions. He ranks third all-time in the CBA with 253 career victories (253-137, .649) during stops with the Rapid City Thrillers (1988-89), La Crosse Catbirds (1989-94) and Sioux Falls Skyforce (1994-95). In September 2001, Saunders guided the United States men's basketball team to a perfect 5-0 record and a gold medal at the Goodwill Games in Brisbane, Australia.

The Cleveland, Ohio, native began his successful coaching career at Golden Valley Lutheran College, where he compiled a 92-13 record (including a perfect 56-0 mark at home) in four seasons. In 1981, he joined the coaching staff at his alma matter, the University of Minnesota, as an assistant coach where he helped the Golden Gophers to the 1982 Big Ten Championship. After five seasons at Minnesota, Saunders moved to an assistant coach position at the University of Tulsa, where he worked for two seasons before heading to the pro ranks.

Saunders, 54, was an All-America basketball player at Cuyahoga Heights High School in Cleveland. During his senior season in 1973, he was named Ohio's Class A High School Basketball Player of the Year after averaging a state-high 32.0 points per game. He continued his basketball career at Minnesota, where he teamed with Kevin McHale and started in 101 of his 103 career games.

Saunders was born February 23, 1955, in Cleveland, Ohio. He and his wife, Debbie, have four children: Ryan, Mindy and twins Rachel and Kimberly.

Zierden resides in Minnesota with his wife, Anne, and two children, Isaiah and Rachel.

SAM CASSELL
Assistant Coach

Sam Cassell begins his first season in the NBA coaching ranks after his hire by the Wizards on May 21, 2009. Cassell moves to the bench after an outstanding 15-season NBA career, in which he won three NBA championships; two with the Houston Rockets in 1994 and 1995 and one with the Boston Celtics in 2008.

In 993 career regular season games, the former All-Star averaged 15.7 points and 6.0 assists per game. Cassell made his mark as a clutch player in his rookie season in 1994 when he averaged 9.4 points and 4.2 rebounds off of the bench in the playoffs to help the Rockets to their first NBA Championship, and was a key contributor on the Rockets squad that won the title again in 1995.

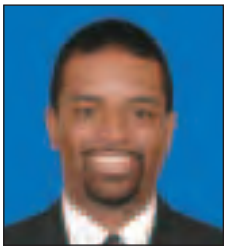
Assistant Coach



Entering his 12th year as a member of the Wizards organization, Wes Unseld Jr. is in his fifth season as an assistant coach.

Just four days after his graduation from The Johns Hopkins University in 1997, Unseld began his career in scouting, with both professional and collegiate responsibilities to the Wizards organization. In September of 2009, Unseld was part of a delegation from the Wizards front office that traveled to China to commemorate the 30-year anniversary of the Team's historic visit there in 1979.

The Wizards' ultimate source of scouting reports both on opposing teams and individuals, Unseld plays a vital role in game planning and preparation. In 2004-05, Unseld was an invaluable member of a staff that guided Washington to its first postseason series victory in over two decades, and his player development skills were paramount to a coaching staff that led the Wizards to a second consecutive playoff appearance in 2005-06; his first season as an assistant coach. Banks then attended Duke University, and finished his collegiate career with averages of 16.8 points and 7.9 rebounds per game, while earning First Team All-ACC honors as a senior and Second Team honors his first three seasons (including recognition as the ACC Rookie of the Year after helping the Blue Devils reach the NCAA championship game). Banks was a two-time NCAA All-American, led the ACC in scoring as a senior, and graduated from Duke with a degree in history. After serving as commencement speaker at graduation, he was later inducted into the Duke Sports Hall of Fame in 1994.

Following his career at Duke, Banks was selected by the San Antonio Spurs in the second round (28th overall) of the 1981 NBA Draft. He went on to play four seasons (1981-85) for the Spurs before being traded to Chicago, where he would play the final two seasons of his career (1985-87). TIM CONNELLY
Director of Player Personnel

In his tenth year with the Wizards organization, Tim Connelly is Washington's Director of Player Personnel. Connelly's role includes head scouting, salary cap and database management, player evaluation responsibilities, as well as assisting the Wizards Vice President of Player Personnel with all front office duties.

Including a four-year stint as a scout for the Wizards, Connelly's travels have taken him across five continents to identify the top talent in the basketball world. Well-known both internationally and domestically in basketball circles, Connelly has enjoyed a rapid ascent in the Wizards organization.

The Baltimore product began working for the Wizards as an intern in the basketball operations department in 1996, and after his graduation from DC's Catholic University in 1999, Connelly was named to the Wizards scouting staff as Assistant Video Coordinator. In 2000, Connelly became a full-time scout for Washington, and later assumed the head scouting role.

Connelly's service to the game of basketball has spanned the globe in recent years. During the summer of 2006, Connelly served as a coach for the NBA's Basketball Without Borders program in South Africa, as well as at the Seed Academy in Dakar, Senegal. In the summer of 2007, Connelly visited Dublin, Ireland to help raise youth awareness of cultural diversity and integration through the sport of basketball, and to work with the Irish federation on future basketball related initiatives. More recently, with his brother and Wizards scout Pat, Connelly visited England in his personal efforts to aid the globalization of basketball.

A graduate of Towson Catholic High School, Connelly has aspirations to further his involvement in grass-roots basketball programs in his hometown of Baltimore. One of seven children and five brothers, each of Connelly's brothers -- Joe, Pat, Daniel and Kevin -- played basketball at Towson Catholic; the powerhouse Baltimore program. Meet the 2009 World Car of the Year.*

This isn't just a win for the Volkswagen Golf. It's a win for the ideas that all Volkswagen models are built upon. Ideas about being environmentally conscious, leading us to build more cars with 25+ highway mpg than any other car brand and the Volkswagen Jetta TDI® Clean Diesel, the vehicle that set a 67.90mpg Guinness World Record for average fuel efficiency.† Ideas that value safety, leading to more 2009 IIHS Top Safety Picks than Volvo.†† Ideas that maintaining a car should be worry free, leading us to include no-charge scheduled Carefree Maintenance™§ on all 2009 models. And ideas for the future, like our state-of-the-art plant under construction in Chattanooga, Tennessee. To learn more about the World Car of the Year that's coming this fall or any of the world-changing things Volkswagen is doing, visit vw.com/upcomingcars.

Current world record for lowest fuel consumption across the 48 contiguous United States. Vehicle was equipped with Goodyear Assurance Fuel Max tires. 30 city/41 highway mpg (2.0 manual TDI Clean Diesel). EPA estimates. Your mileage will vary.††"Top Safety Pick" based on 31 mph side-impact crash test, 40mph frontal-offset crash test, 20mph rear-impact test, and the availability of ESC. Test performed by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety. For more details visit, www.iihs.org. §The Volkswagen Carefree Maintenance Program covers the vehicle's scheduled maintenance during the term of the new vehicle limited warranty at no additional charge. Some limitations apply. See dealer or vehicle maintenance program booklet for details. Does not include routine wear and tear on parts such as brakes, tires, wiper blades, light bulbs, etc.

WIZARDS RETIRED NUMBERS

41 WES UNSELD

As a player, Wes Unseld seemed to have been chiseled from a block of granite, with a stoic demeanor and an iron resolve to win. A 6-7 bull of a center, he forged his reputation on relentless rebounding, bone-jarring picks, and laser-beam outlet passes. He did all the unspectacular things that led to glamorous victories. He was the league's MVP and Rookie of the Year in 1968-69 and a five-time NBA All-Star who captained the Baltimore and Washington Bullets to four NBA Finals appearances in the 1970s and to a championship in 1977-78. Unseld was intelligent on and off the court, and over the course of his career he came to personify the virtues of hard work, dedication, and courage. After retiring in 1980 he moved into a front office position with the Bullets, then coached the team for seven seasons in the late 1980s and early 1990s before becoming the team's General Manager before taking a leave of absence in May 2003. During his 13-year NBA career, all with the Bullets, Unseld piled up many accomplishments. He ranked seventh on the league's all-time rebounding list and was one of a handful of players to have tallied at least 10,000 points and 10,000 rebounds for a career. He played 984 games for the Bullets, the most of any player in franchise history. His TOT.al of 13,769 boards (14.0 rpg) currently tops the franchise career list, and his 3,822 assists also is a Bullets record. After a standout career at Louisville, Unseld was the second overall selection in the 1968 NBA Draft by the Bullets following the selection of future teammate Elvin Hayes by the Rockets. The Bullets had never had a winning season up to that point of Unseld's arrival. With Unseld the team ran off 10 winning campaigns and made 12 consecutive playoff appearances. Unseld played each of his 13 seasons with the Bullets and was elected to the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1988. In 1996, he was named to the NBA 50th Anniversary All-Time Team.

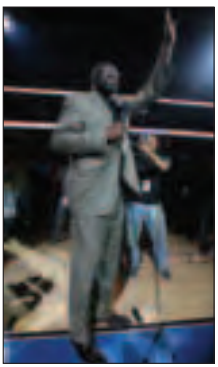
11 ELVIN HAYES

One of the most talented power forwards ever to play the game, Elvin Hayes used his trademark turnaround jumper and aggressive defense to win a secure place in the NBA record books. Fifth on the all-time list in games (1,303) and third in minutes played (50,000), he missed only nine contests in his 16 years in the league, a tribute to his durability and conditioning. An All-Star for each of his first 12 seasons, he scored more points (27,313) than any other player in NBA history except for Kareem Abdul Jabbar, Karl Malone, Michael Jordan, Wilt Chamberlain and Moses Malone. He also ranks fourth on the league's all-time rebounding list with 16,279 boards. Hayes is the franchise leader in points scored with 15,551 and averaged 21.3 points and 12.7 rebounds in his nine seasons with the Bullets that included a world championship in 1978. Hayes attended the University of Houston where he had a standout career highlighted by outscoring Lew Alcindor 39-15 in leading Houston to snap UCLA's 47-game winning streak. Hayes was the first overall pick by the San Diego Rockets in the 1968 NBA Draft. Following four seasons with the Rockets, Hayes was acquired by the Baltimore Bullets in exchange for Jack Marin and future considerations on April 12, 1972. With the Bullets, Hayes moved to the power forward position and teamed with Wes Unseld to form one of the most formidable frontcourts in NBA history. Hayes led Washington to a franchise record 60 wins during the 1974-75 season while being named First Team All-NBA. During Washington's championship run in 1978, Hayes averaged a team-high 21.2 points per game. After a standout career in Washington, Hayes finished his 16-year career with the Houston Rockets. Hayes was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 1990 and his #11 jersey is one of only three numbers retired by the Washington Wizards.

25 GUS JOHNSON

Gus Johnson, one of only three players in franchise history to have his jersey retired, was one of 21 finalists named by the North American Screening Committee for election into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame's Class of 2003. Johnson, a native of Akron, Ohio was a devastating force at the power forward position. Johnson's ability to score, pass, and rebound made the Baltimore Bullets a perennial title contender from the mid 1960s to the early 1970's. Johnson, who entered the league following one year at the University of Idaho in 1963, spent nine of his 11 pro seasons with the Bullets. Nicknamed "Honeycomb" for his sweet play, Johnson was a four-time All-NBA Second Team selection (1965, '66, '70, '71), a two-time All-Defensive First Team selection (1970, '71), and was a member of the 1964 NBA All-Rookie team. With Johnson on the roster, the Bullets reached the playoffs six times and advanced to the NBA finals in 1970-71 (4-0 loss to Milwaukee). Statistically, Johnson averaged a double-double (17.1 ppg and 12.7 rpg) in 581 career NBA games. The Washington Bullets retired his jersey number 25 in 1986. On April 29, 1987, Johnson passed away after being diagnosed with an inoperable brain tumor.

10 EARL MONROE



Before the arrival of "Magic" Johnson, there was another "Magic" -- "Black Magic" -- also known as "Earl the Pearl." He was Earl Monroe, a dazzling playmaker and one-on-one virtuoso who dazzled both spectators and opponents alike with his flashy moves and drives to the hoop. Monroe revolutionized the game with his flamboyant moves, and is widely credited with popularizing the spin move. Some said that watching him play was like listening to jazz; much like the music, Monroe's moves were like improvisations, many of which took off in mid-flight and changed course without notice. He was chosen with the second pick in the 1967 NBA draft by the Baltimore Bullets, and immediately made his presence known. He scored a then-franchise record 56 points in a game against the Los Angeles Lakers and was awarded the NBA Rookie of the Year Award after averaging 24.3 points for the season. During his Bullets career, Monroe solidified himself as not only a marquee player but the leader of a perennial championship contender. In 1968-69 he was named to the All-NBA First Team and coupled with Rookie of the Year Wes Unseld to create a devastating fast break not seen before in the NBA. The following season he led the Baltimore Bullets to their first ever NBA World Championship Series. "The Pearl" ended his Bullets career in 1971 as one of the franchise's most storied players, and he appears frequently in the franchise record books. Monroe scored 7,775 points in 328 games as a Bullet, and stands third in franchise history in scoring average (23.7). The prolific scorer notched over 40 points on nine different occasions for the Bullets and led Baltimore in scoring and assists four consecutive years (1967-71). He scored over 700 playoff points in a Bullets uniform, and ranks second in playoff scoring average with 24.3 points per game. Monroe retired from the game of basketball in 1980 as one of the greatest and most innovative players in its history. During his 13-year career he had amassed 17,454 points in 926 games. A four time All-Star, Monroe was inducted into the NBA Hall of Fame in 1990. In 1996, the NBA announced Monroe as a member of its 50th Anniversary All-Time Team honoring the top 50 players in league history. "The Pearl" helped herald a new era of basketball, a more exciting game that showcased dazzling individual skills within a team context and on December 10, 2007 Earl Monroe's #10 jersey became only the fourth number retired by the Washington Wizards. 1977-78 CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

Led by Wes Unseld and Elvin Hayes, the Washington Bullets captured the franchise's only world championship during the 1977-78 season under new head coach Dick Motta. The Bullets had established themselves as one of the most formidable teams in the 1970's and made two NBA Finals appearances only to lose to Milwaukee in 1971 and to Golden State in 1975, after a season in which the team posted a franchise record 60 victories. Washington finished the 1977-78 season with a 44-38 record and defeated Atlanta and San Antonio in the Eastern Conference Playoffs before upsetting Philadelphia 4-2 for a spot in the NBA Finals versus the Seattle SuperSonics. Seattle erased a 19-point lead at home in Game 1 and took a 1-0 series lead with a 106-102 victory. The series then shifted to the Capital Centre for Game 2 where Bobby Dandridge scored 34 points and Hayes added 25 points as Washington even the series with a 106-98 win. Seattle held off a late Washington rally for a 93-92 win at the Capital Centre in Game 3 as the series shifted to the Kingdome for Game 4. In need of a win, Washington trailed by 15 points late in third quarter but rallied behind Dandridge and Unseld to force overtime where Charles Johnson nailed three field goals as Washington evened the series with a 120-116 overtime win. The series then shifted to the Seattle Coliseum for Game 5, and in their home arena, the Sonics posted a 98-94 win to take a 3-2 series lead. Facing elimination, Washington exploded for 70 points in the second half of Game 6 and increased a 12-point first half lead into a 117-82 victory. The series then returned to Seattle for the seventh and deciding game where Washington played strong defense in forcing the Sonics backcourt of Gus Williams and Dennis Johnson into 4-26 shooting in building an 11-point fourth quarter lead. Seattle fought back in the closing minutes and cut the lead to four with a minute and a half to play. Mitch Kupchak then converted a big three point play but Seattle rallied to cut the lead to 101-99 on a Paul Silas tip-in. Seattle then fouled Unseld, who hit both of his free throws as Washington held on for a 105-99 victory and the franchise's first world championship. The title was the first for the City of Washington, D.C. since the Redskins won the NFL title in 1942. During the playoff run and finals, Motta reminded the media and fans that each series wasn't over until "the fat lady sings," a phrase that is widely associated with 1978 NBA Champion Washington Bullets.

NBA CARES

NBA Cares is the league's global community outreach initiative that addresses important social issues such as education, youth and family development, and health and wellness. The NBA, its teams, and players support a range of programs, partners, and initiatives that strive to positively impact children and families worldwide.

As part of the league's mission to demonstrate leadership in social responsibility, NBA Cares reaches communities through philanthropy, hands-on service, and legacy projects. Since the program's October 2005 launch, the league, players, and teams have raised more than $110 million for charity, provided more than one million hours of hands-on service, and built more than 425 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play in communities around the world.

NBA Cares reaches millions of children and adults through special programs like NBA FIT and Basketball without Borders. The league and its teams and players also promote environmental awareness and sustainability through NBA Green. During high-profile league events like NBA All-Star and The Finals, community outreach efforts use the power of sport to effect positive social change.

Thanks to strong partnerships with internationally recognized community organizations such as Make-A-Wish, UNICEF, KaBOOM!, Habitat for Humanity, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, Hands On Network, Special Olympics, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, and the UN Foundation, NBA Cares works to improve communities in need around the world.

WIZARDS CARE

Mission Statement

Wizards Care is the community service program for the Washington Wizards. The entire organization--from team owners Irene and Abe Pollin to players, coaches and employees--is committed to investing time and resources to Wizards Care. By providing assistance to the youth, homeless and underserved in the D.C. Metropolitan Area, Wizards Care hopes to inspire others to do the same.

This season, all Wizards Cares proceeds will be donated to the Capital Area Food Bank as part of Irene and Abe Pollin's initiative to provide the means to give 1,000,000 meals to those in need

REACH ONE, TEACH ONE

READING TIMEOUTS

The NBA's year-round, league-wide initiative, Read to Achieve, promotes the values of reading and online literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with children. Throughout the year, the Wizards and Dasani will host reading timeouts at local schools, libraries or at Verizon Center to help promote the importance of literacy. Wizards players take timeout to read to area youth to help engage their imagination and foster a life-long love of reading and learning.

WIZARDS CARE BLACK HISTORY MONTH TRIP

In the month of February, the Washington Wizards select a group of students from a local school to participate in the Black History Month Trip. The Wizards take the students on the road for an away game; prior to that night's game the students visit various historical sites significant to the African American history of that city. After visiting, touring, and learning about the rich African American history and culture of the city the students head to the arena to meet with Washington Wizards coaches and players in a pre-game meet and greet.

CARON'S 3DS TO SUCCEED

For the third season --Caron Butler will share his 3Ds – Dedication, Determination and Discipline to Succeed to motivate and recognize local youth. Each month, Caron and the Wizards will recognize and reward local 11-18 year-olds who demonstrate through a personal essay, poem, song/rap, artwork, video…etc. how they used one of the 3Ds to overcome adversity, build character or power achievement and to succeed on their own.

THE GIFT TO ASSIST

A SALUTE TO OUR HEROES

In partnership with General Dynamics, the Wizards work with the USO of Metropolitan Washington to provide wounded warriors at the surrounding military medical centers, as well as military bases with complimentary tickets and a place of honor at all home games.

The Pollin Award sponsored by Verizon was created to honor those individuals who show an outstanding dedication to their community. The Washington Wizards teamed up with the non-profit organization Positive Coaching Alliance (PCA) to honor the Washington DC Metropolitan coaches. PCA's mission is to "transform youth sports so sports can transform youth." Since 2001, PCA has operated in the Washington, DC area, impacting tens of thousands of local youths.

TELEVISION BROADCASTERS

Steve Buckhantz
Play-By-Play Announcer

With 35 years of broadcasting experience, including a quarter-century in the Nation's Capital, Steve Buckhantz is one of the longest tenured sportscasters in the Metropolitan area. A four-time Emmy award winner, including the honor for Wizards Play-by-play in 2008, Buckhantz is in his 13th season as the television voice of the Wizards on Comcast SportsNet.

Buckhantz' dramatic game calls have crept into DC's sports lexicon. "Dagger", "Backbreaker", "Not Possible", all are heard regularly on sports highlight shows around the country.

Buckhantz is a native of Washington, DC, born in the District and raised in nearby Arlington, VA. He attended Washington-Lee High School and his education continued at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, VA, where he graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Communication Arts. In 1995 Buckhantz was honored with JMU's Distinguished Alumni Award.

Following four years broadcasting JMU basketball games on radio, Buckhantz made the transition into television at ABC affiliate WHSV-TV in Harrisonburg, where he anchored the 11pm sports and weather. His TV career then took him to WRCB in Chattanooga, TN, WTVF in Nashville, TN and WSB in Atlanta, GA, before returning in 1984 to his hometown and Fox owned WTTG-TV, where he was the Sports Director and lead sports anchor for nearly 14 years. Buckhantz' play-by-play work also includes the "NFL on Fox" and in 1994 was part of that networks' inaugural season televising professional football. From 1991-'97 Buckhantz was the radio play-by-play voice of the US Naval Academy Football Team.

Buckhantz is involved in numerous charitable events in the Washington area, and for the past 14 years has been the spokesman for the Steve Buckhantz/St. Jude Celebrity Golf Tournament, which to date has raised close to three million dollars to benefit research at the children's hospital in Memphis, TN.

Phil Chenier
Analyst

The 2009-10 NBA campaign marks Phil Chenier's 25th consecutive season providing television color commentary for the Washington Wizards organization. Seated alongside play-by-play man Steve Buckhantz, Chenier has been further ingrained in the consciousness of Washington area sports fans after he starred for the Bullets for nine seasons during his playing days in the NBA.

An All-Star performer for the Bullets in 1974, 1975 and 1977, Chenier still holds the franchise record for most points in a non-overtime game (53), and he ranks among the all-time franchise leaders in field goals made (4th), points (6th), minutes played (6th) and games played (8th). He averaged at least 20 points per game for five consecutive seasons (1972-77) and was named to the All-NBA second team in 1974-75, when he finished eighth in MVP voting. After 10 professional seasons, Chenier retired in 1981 with 9,931 career points and a 17.2 ppg scoring average.

In the NBA off-season, Chenier shares his basketball expertise at his youth basketball camp, which is co-directed by award-winning basketball writer David DuPree. Chenier lives in Columbia, MD, and has three children, April, Philip Lawrence and Adelle, and a granddaughter, Ana L. Fletcher.

RADIO BROADCASTERS

Dave Johnson
Play-By-Play Announcer

The 2009-10 season marks Dave Johnson's 13th consecutive campaign as the voice of the Wizards on the Wizards Radio Network. Wizards fans also know Johnson for his contributions to the television show Wizards Magazinei, and to WashingtonWizards.com where he hosts a live blog (blogcast) during games. Johnson's ties to the Washington DC sports community are strengthened by his efforts as the sports director and morning sports anchor for WTOP radio (103.5 FM), where he recently won an Edward R. Murrow award for best writing, and for his work in studio on Comcast SportsNet as a frequent anchor of CSN's nightly sports show.

Johnson's ubiquitous presence in the sports community is also due in part to his role as the television play-by-play voice of Major League Soccer's DC United on Comcast SportsNet, and to an extensive history with televised soccer that includes appearances on ESPN and FOX Soccer Channel. Johnson also served as the play-by-play voice for the 2006 FIFA World Cup on XM radio, for whom he called over 20 matches, including the World Cup final in Berlin.

Among Johnson's other career highlights is an Emmy Award for his work as the host of the NHL's Washington Capitals Face Offî television show, countless anchored telecasts not just on Comcast SportsNet but also on FOX 5, an extensive play-by-play resume of college football, college basketball and lacrosse, and in the summer of 2006, Johnson served as a fill-in on Washington Nationals radio broadcasts.

A graduate of Towson University, Dave and his wife, Diane, live in Annapolis, MD with their son, Pierce.

Glenn Consor
Color Analyst

The 2009-10 season marks Glenn Consor's third season as the color analyst and post-game call-in show host on the Washington Wizards Radio Network. Alongside 13-year play-by-play veteran Dave Johnson, Consor brings almost two decades of experience covering the Wizards to the booth.

After 18 years covering the Wizards for various media outlets, most recently for Comcast SportsNet as an analyst on the network's live postgame show, Consor added a new perspective of watching the Wizards to his resume during the 2007-08 season. Previously, from 1990-95 Consor was a scout for the Wizards franchise and Indiana Pacers.

In addition to his work with the Wizards, Consor has served as a basketball analyst for NBA-TV, Home Team Sports, ESPN's regional college basketball broadcasts, Sports Talk 980, Westwood One's coverage of the NCAA Tournament, and Comcast SportsNet's collegiate broadcasts. Consor still provides periodic Wizards analysis for CSN as well, and served as Washington's Camp Director in the summer of 2009 for two youth basketball camps.

In his playing days, Consor started for four years for Rick Pitino at Boston University, before playing professionally in Israel. Originally from Flushing Queens, New York, Consor currently resides in Rockville, Maryland with his wife, Mara, and two sons, Kenny (18) and Jonny (15).
